Economic Manuscripts (Paris, 1879) By Karl Marx

Table of Contents

I. Fixed rates of small cheap housing – working class landlordism

II. Rent-rates and housing rates (of no interest actually to anyone)
III. All this means real conditions of course – not economic conditions

IV. Complex meanings of banking and even finance means only in fact the way companies work.
V. Now compare this calculation I mean with the housing bills in poor taxi drivers context – again just for the poor.

VI. Inflation – that’s my point – I just mean this – try understanding this as the way capital works – in real experience.

I. Parisian Rent in Housing (rent racketing and housing crisis)

And so the

Parisian rent racketing is strong, but also the process of rent-capital, which is landlordism and forms of cheap banileu housing from Paris to Lyon in a long line from Marseilles and Nantierre.

II. Paris Housing Sector and Banking Rates – interlinked processes of housing, banking and daily life analysis of calculus of rent and interest rates going sky high – a Parisian malady

In Paris the housing sector is now developing a suburbanization, which then is rampant buying of houses and with home loans from interest seeking banks, with high expenditure rates and fiscal policies from the Government of Bourgeois Landlords – that is fully rent capitalism.

III. Paris and Similar European Countries – Problems of Capitalism – and sky high real estate, banks and banking rates – is following financial capitalism – but what about its own material black poor – he claims he cannot help.

Banking rates, cross-sections of complex spending and expenditure and inflation with a housing crisis and developments of housing fiascos and black poor in ghettoization.

IV. French Capitalism and so Economic Paris Manuscripts for Engels

So in fact I am studying banking rates, housing rates, and even university scholarship rates – all of this I call lived experience for Engels to edit.

Engels Edit –

I. Interest, banking and fiscal budgets, even banking sectors in financial capitalism.

II. Rent, housing and suburbanization (visit to the England suburbanization)

III. Forming this in complex calculus – just the word – for banking rates – it is also financial means of companies in America to trade in banking sectors of Greece.
